Instructions for completing a Firearms Dealer Theatrical Armourer Licence Application

P649

Firearms used in film, television or theatrical productions are supplied by a Theatrical Armourer.

This FACT sheet provides information on completing an 'Application for a Firearms Dealer - Theatrical Armourer Licence' P649 form.

What is a Theatrical Armourer Licence?

A theatrical armourer licence is a firearms dealer licence issued to a person who carries on a business of providing firearms for the purposes of film, television or theatrical productions.

What does a Firearms Dealer - Theatrical Armourer licence authorise?

A Firearms Dealer - Theatrical Armourer Licence authorises the licence holder to possess, use, manufacture, convert, acquire, supply, repair, maintain or test firearms (and blank cartridges for those firearms) in the licence holder's capacity as a Theatrical Armourer, ONLY for the category of firearms specified on the licence.

A Firearms Dealer Licence issued to a Theatrical Armourer also authorises:

- * The licensee and any authorised employee of the licensee to instruct and supervise actors and other persons involved in a film, television or theatrical production in the possession and use of firearms for the purposes of the production, AND
- * The actors and other persons involved in the production to possess and use the firearms, but only while under the supervision and control of the licensee or authorised employee of the licensee.

What registers and recording requirements must be maintained by a theatrical armourer?

A theatrical armourer has the same recording and reporting requirements as a firearms dealer. For detailed information on these requirements, see FACT Sheets 'Firearms Dealer General Legislative Requirements' and 'Firearms Dealer Legislative Requirements Registers and Reporting' on the Theatrical Armourer Application page under Dealers on the Firearms Registry Internet site.

What requirements must be met for employees?

The authority of a Firearms Dealer - Theatrical Armourer Licence extends to employees, ONLY IF they are authorised in writing by the Commissioner by way of an 'Employee Authority' issued by the Firearms Registry.

Application for an Employee Authority can be made on a P565 form available on the Firearms Registry Internet site.

What other information needs to accompany my application?

Close Associates must be listed on the P566 form and this form must be returned with your application.

Close associates are defined in Section 4B of the Firearms Act 1996 as persons who hold or will hold a relevant financial interest or any relevant position in the business, or a person who is or will be entitled to exercise any relevant power in the business.

Relevant financial interest means any interest in the capital or assets of the business or entitlements to receive income from the business.

Relevant position means a position where a person participates in the management of the business.

Relevant power means any power to participate in managerial or executive decisions or to elect or appoint any person to a relevant position.

Directors, employees and close associates are not entitled to have access to firearms in the theatrical armourer's stock unless they also hold an "Employee Authority". This applies even if an individual firearms licence is held.
